CHAIRMAN'S REVIEW

During the third quarter, the company continued to deliver considerable bottom line growth, resulting in a year-to-date profit after tax of $21.4 million, more than double that of the prior year, already having exceeded the 2020 full-year profit. This profit growth was delivered despite a decline in revenue in the quarter. The unprecedented challenges of the Global Supply Chain had an impact on our 3rd Quarter results arising from the consequences and shortages of raw materials, shipping containers, trucking services and international shipping turmoil. These logistics challenges and rising costs are expected to continue into 2022 until global supply catches up to demand.

Quarter 3 revenue, inclusive of discontinued operations, was $58.8 million, bringing the year-to-date revenue to $198.0 million. The quarter results were severely impacted by the logistics constraints, resulting in a high quantity of direct shipments for both local and export territories being re-phased into Q4, predominantly driven by shipping delays. This accounted for approximately half of the decline versus prior year. The other half was driven by a higher comparative in quarter 3 of the prior year due to 1) heavy phasing of orders in the early part of the second half in the export markets, and 2) a similar rephasing of Home Trade sales in anticipation of the warehouse closure during quarter 4 2020. The company is actively monitoring its supply chain, and actions have been put in place to mitigate the risk as much as possible to offset the topline interruptions during the ensuing quarter. Year-to-date, Beauty & Personal Care continued to grow in both the local and export markets, offset by the Home Care category, which is still recovering from the reduced consumption of fabrics cleaning products during lockdown.

During the third quarter, the company also announced that it approved the sale and transfer of the local Tea business to a newly incorporated global Unilever tea holding company on October 1st 2021. The sale was completed in October. The Company continues its commitment to evolve its operations and focus on delivering value to its shareholders and consumers over the long term.
